A Fresh Look at Fathoming Global Warming

With the help of HKUST’s exciting satellite remote sensing technology and data advances, School of Engineering faculty are seeking more accurate weather forecasts and greater understanding of climate change to enable more effective planning and decision-making by policymakers.

A New Robotic Designer's Apprentice

Since its inception in 2018, the HKUST Robotics Team has been a beacon of innovation, inspiring a new generation of engineers and incorporating cutting-edge technology into its designs.

HKUST Welcomes 17 New Faculty Members

As the School of Engineering continues to grow, it is proud to welcome a diverse group of 17 new faculty members, including 12 PhD students from various disciplines.

A Host of New Talent in the World

From the long-established disciplines to the more recent fields of study, HKUST is home to a vibrant and dynamic community of students and faculty.

HKUST Wins Two Prestigious Awards

Prof. Mansun CHAN was honored with the Michael G. Gale Medal for Distinguished Teaching, while Prof. Ross MURCH received the Recognition Award 2023 for his work in Wireless Communications.