

The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

UG Course Syllabus

Academic and Professional Development I

CPEG 2930

0 credit

Course Description

A compulsory, one year course for Computer Engineering students only. This course is intended to offer advice to students on academic and professional matters, and to improve the students' communication skills. This will be achieved through: (1) Small student group meetings with an assigned advisor; (2) Professional and academic seminars, and (3) Social activities. Graded P or F.

List of Topics:

Each student is assigned a CSE/ECE faculty advisor who meets with them twice a year (once in Fall term, once in Spring term) on an individual/group basis. Other activities including orientation, career talks and workshops organized by the program.

Statement of Objectives/Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will have had:

- the opportunity to discuss academic and professional matters of both general and individual concern with their advisors.
- the opportunity to express their views on matters related to their study of computer engineering.
- practice with English communication, in speaking and listening, on both academic and non-academic topics.

Assessments:

Assessment Task	Contribution to Overall Course grade (%)
Attendance of course activity	100%

Required Texts and Materials

No textbook