

ENEG2990 Course

Instructor

Prof. Frank LAM (Rm 5580, kefrank@ust.hk)

Course Syllabus

The course aims to provide guidance to develop a career pathway for the students. Professionals from the academia, industrial and commercial sectors will be invited to do the advising and discuss with the students about their career development. Trainings on CV preparation, job interview, and various skills development will be given to well equip the students' abilities and capabilities for their future job career.

Assessment

There is only "Pass" or "Fail" to this course. A total of 80% attendance is required for completing the course. Unless reasonable justification, Grade "F" will be given if the attendance is less than 80%.